GALGOTIAS UNIVERSITY WINS TOP AWARDS FOR ACADEMICS, GLOBAL LINKAGES & PLACEMENTS

Galgotias University has been awarded as one of the Top Institutions in India for Top Placement at the recently held DQ Cyber-Media ICT Awards 2013. Shri Narendra Modi, Hon'ble Chief Minister, Gujarat, handed over the award to Shri Suneel Galgotia, Chancellor, Galgotias University at a glittering awards ceremony in Delhi January, 2014.

Galgotias University was also feted as India's Best Private University for academics and global linkages. Due recognition was given to the university's excellent distinguishing from other universities in terms of its global-level academics, international pedagogy and world-class faculty drawn from the world's finest universities and research institutions. The university was lauded for its deep linkages with institutions of global level excellence such as Georgia Tech, Purdue University, Goethe University, The Smith School of Business at the University of Maryland, Kent State University and many others in the USA and Europe, for the latest global syllabi, pedagogies, research cluster linkages.

Industry and education leaders applauded Galgotias University for developing rich intellectual capital development systems and for providing industry with a deep national-level technology talent pool. India's leading corporates have flocked to the Galgotias campus in increasing numbers year after year. Galgotias student placements hit a high of 92% during the placements completed thus far, with ongoing placements still in progress. This was one among a rich haul of awards Galgotias has bagged recently. Galgotias was top-ranked among India's Top 100 B-Schools in the Times-Nielsen B-School Survey 2014. The survey conducted by the Nielsen Company in partnership with India's leading media group, The Times of India. Galgotias University was also recently awarded among Asia's Best Private Education Institutions at the WCRC-KPMG Leaders Asia Excellence Summit 2014 and recognised among Asia's fastest-growing engineering education institutions. KPMG in India were advisors & evaluators to the prestigious awards.

The DataQuest Top T-Schools Survey 2014 also recognised Galgotias University as the No.1 Private University for Engineering Education in Northern India. The same survey also top-ranked Galgotias University among India's top 20 engineering institutions - ahead of several leading NITs. Galgotias University has launched five new trail-blazing B.Tech programs in Computer Science Engineering, in collaboration with IBM. The five new 4 year programs are offered in Cloud Computing & Virtualisation, Open Source Software & Open Standards, Business Analytics, Telecom Informatics and Mainframe Technology. To ensure a global-class education ecosystem and an excellent student peer-group, only the best students make the cut to enter Galgotias University, with the bar being raised higher year on year. To raise standards to an even higher level this year, Galgotias University has instituted the Galgotias Engineering Entrance Examination, the all-India GEEE2014, so that the most meritorious students benefit from the world-class education imparted by the university. "Our endeavour is to place Indian education at the pinnacle with the world's best," said Suneel Galgotia, Chancellor, Galgotias University, on receiving the award from Shri Narendra Modi. ■
